“ Phyllis and I grew up together in Falmouth, Kentucky. We were close friends all through our school days. After Phyllis was gone from Falmouth, her parents lived for a time on the street behind my parent's home. Phyllis and I saw each other for several years when we visited our parents. Phyllis was a beautiful, intelligent young woman in the days that I knew here. We had many good times together. My sympathy goes out to her children. I wish I had known she was in Raleigh, as my husband and I just moved to Wilmington 2 1/2 months to be nearer our daughter whose family lives here.

“ Phyllis was my dearest friend ever. Almost like a mother to me. Her laughter and her breaking into song from hearing one single word made me laugh and smile so much. We did join in.

Her friendship was medicine to me. I talked to her almost every day and we'd talk about movies, movie stars, life, family - for hours after hours.

I'll miss you face, her smile, her laughter, her advice, her love. She loved me and I, her.

Park of our "pack", we'd go out to dinner on a whim, go to the opera, play Sheepshead and we played Mahjong a lot. She was such a part of my life and when I moved to California I said to her, " you better stay healthy. Stay well because I'm coming back".

I just can't believe that she's gone. My buddy in life...I'm devastated, sad but she was tired and in pain and wanted to go.

I'm think of her always.
